

Date: Thu, 29 May 2014 10:06:55 +0100

Subject:

From: [REDACTED]

To: marcusstead@hotmail.co.uk

Hi there.

Apologies for coming back to you - but would it be possible for you to count the emails you've received from FixMyStreet in the last two years?

If we could put a figure on the number of complaints you've made over this period, that would be really helpful.

Best wishes

Laura Armstrong
Sunday TV Reporter
The Sun

[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

---

On 29 May 2014 16:52, Marcus Stead <marcusstead@hotmail.co.uk> wrote:

Hi Laura,

I've counted 78 emails in total during that period - a minority of those were made on behalf of my elderly grandmother, whose email account I run. I keep an eye on the area where she lives when I visit. That is not including follow-up email correspondence from the council, in which case we are well over 100.

I should stress that FixMyStreet is just one aspect of my complaining. It doesn't include the letter writing and phone calls I put in.

Kind Regards,

Marcus

----

Date: Thu, 29 May 2014 16:58:12 +0100

Subject: Re:

From: [REDACTED]